David Zhang Builder-in-Residence for AI infra

david.zhang.human@gmail.com · x.com/dzhng · github.com/dzhng

Your infra is great. Nobody gets it yet.

Your tech works and the benchmarks are real. But developers bounce off the docs, your launch posts get 40 likes, and your best feature is buried in a changelog.

I find what developers actually want from your tech, and ship it in a form they adopt and share.

WHY ME

Developers share what I build because I build what they want.

01 I see what developers want deep-research gave them exactly that: 8.4K stars in its first 6 days.

02 I turn hard tech into tools people adopt

Small, forkable products on new infra: 19.8K, 3.0K and 1.4K stars.

03 Launches developers picked up

523K and 456K views on single launches; 660K for one demo.

04 I build it myself

Engineer-level depth: I spec it, build it, run the benchmarks and fix the friction.
